

I am opposed to regulations restricting the availability, use, or manufacture of digital to analog devices. Any restrictions on such devices is "bad Law" that infringes on citizen rights to ownership of product, and would be an onerous intrusion of government to individual ability use technology because of a "Hollywood" special interest.

Please drop this NPRM now. We don't need more government in our lives.

Sincerely

Steve Hisserich